It is very encouraging that there is growing consensus, even on the left, on the need to expand Fiumicino airport, an issue the Lega has long championed. We have repeatedly stressed, in various settings, the urgency of unlocking the infrastructure's potential by building a fourth runway and overcoming the bureaucratic obstacles that have held it back until now. We are pleased that there is now openness from the left as well; we had grown used to too many 'no's.
